Detailed Comments:

- The paper is missing a short paragraph to introduce the rest of the paper's contents at the end of the Introduction section. This paragraph is important, enabling the readers to understand what the following content will be and arouse their interest to continue reading the paper.
- Validation measures and comparisons with existing related work are with high importance.
- Some images need to be re-layout so that the information contained in the picture is clear (high resolution 360 dpi) as well as relevant explanations about the picture.
- As a recommendation, it is necessary to separate the «Results» and «Discussion» sections, since in this form it is not clear, where the description of the results ends and where the discussion begins.
- Future work is missing. You may add this to the conclusion if you're actively engaged in follow-up this work or any recommendation for further improvement.
- This paper requires moderate revision and amendments to be accepted for publication. The author(s) may simply need to make a few changes.
